60 Trees Fall

- The recent spate of heavy rain & wind has uprooted numerous trees in various parts of city
- Unscientifically laid footpaths and asphalting cited as major reason for weakening of roots

PIC. 1: An uprooted tree on Bogadi Road. PIC. 2: Passengers waiting for bus on Mirza Road in Nazarbad which has turned into an eyesore after the branches of trees fell in the recent rains. PIC. 3: Tree trunks on same stretch covered with asphalt and interlocking tiles on the footpath with no space for water to reach the roots.

Mysuru, May 15 (PM&BS)- An estimated 50 to 60 trees in the city have uprooted and the branches of about 140 to 150 trees are broken and fallen apart, following the copious rainfall and heavy wind recently.

Public are indeed surprised over the extent of damages witnessed in the form of falling of tree branches on either side of Mirza Road in Nazarbad alone, which they rate it as high when compared to other parts of city. The trees add to the visual beauty of Mirza Road, but the recent downpour resulted in the fall of many tree branches. Inter-lock tiles have been laid on footpaths of either side of the stretch of the road connecting Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Circle (Hardinge Circle) to F.K. Irani Circle.

Even the area around the tree trunk has been covered by asphalt, checking the percolation of water deep into the root of the trees, thus leading to the weakening of trees.

CESC incurs Rs. 2.05 cr. loss

Suneel Kumar

Mysuru, May 15 (MK&BS)- Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) Limited has incurred losses estimated at a whopping Rs. 2.05 crore, with the rain and wind wreaking a havoc in the district in the recent days.

Starting from May 3, the onset of pre-monsoon rain till recently, heavy downpour was witnessed both in urban and rural parts of Mysuru, a total of 875 electric poles have come crashing down, while 85 transformers and 14 km length of electric wires have damaged, explaining the extent of damages.

Suneel Kumar, Superintending Engineer of CESC, told Star of Mysore: "In Mysuru city alone, a total of 372 electric poles and 75 transformers have got damaged with the losses estimated at Rs. 1.28 crore. Taluk wise, 79 electric poles are damaged in Nanjangud, 174 electric poles and six transformers in T. Narasipur, 80 electric poles and two transformers in Hunsur, 55 electric poles and two transformers in H.D. Kote, 41 electric poles in Sargur, nine electric poles in K.R. Nagar, 15 electric poles in Saligrama and 49 electric poles in Periyapatna. The total loss is estimated at Rs. 2,05,25,000."

He attributed the damages mainly to the tree fall as the velocity of wind during pre-monsoon will be high. The heavy trees give away during the wind and uproot, falling on the electric line, bringing down the electric poles. The poles are of quality with stipulated standard, but the trees cause the trouble.

He also reiterated that, the extent of damages suffered due to the heavy rain and wind on May 3 was more. Since then, the works on axing weak and tall tree branches affecting electric line, are taken up in coordination with Mysuru City Corporation (MCC).

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Quantum physics has long been a source of fascination and wonder, given its profound insights into the fundamental nature of reality. Spirituality, on the other hand, elaborated by ancient texts such as the Vedas, has captured the human imagination for millennia, providing a robust framework for making sense of the universe and our place within it. While these two domains may seem disparate, their intriguing points of connection merit a deeper exploration.

Quantum physics, the study of matter and energy dynamics at the smallest scale and the lowest level of granularity, has plausibly challenged conventional notions of reality. It also discusses the key role of consciousness in shaping reality. The double-slit experiment suggests that particles behave differently when observed as if they are responsive to consciousness. Similarly, the Vedas propose that consciousness is not a by-product of the material world but a fundamental aspect of reality, implying that the material and the spiritual are deeply entwined.

The Vedas, ancient Indian scriptures forming the core of Hindu philosophy, are a rich tapestry of wisdom and insights that have left seekers mesmerised since time immemorial. Within the Vedas, one finds descriptions of reality that bear a striking resemblance to certain aspects of quantum physics. These texts explore the nature of reality and consciousness, proposing that Brahmn forms the core of all existence, the ultimate eternal, unchanging, and all-pervading Reality. The concept of maya, imperfectly translated as illusion, speaks of the idea that the everyday world we perceive is not the ultimate reality but only a manifestation shaped by consciousness and perception.

Just as quantum particles influence each other across the expanse of space, the Vedas teach that all beings are intrinsically connected within the fabric of Brahmn. This perspective encourages a sense of universal responsibility and harmony, highlighting the significance of each action and its ripple effects throughout the cosmos. The convergence of quantum physics and spirituality urges us to probe deep into the interconnectedness of all things.

Woman claims she has not eaten or drank in 16 years

Addis Ababa: Muluwork Ambaw, a 26-year-old woman from Ethiopia, claims to have not eaten or drank anything in the last 16 years of her life.

Muluwork Ambaw insists that she shunned food forever one day when she was only 10 years old, after her appetite vanished out of the blue. Apart from her complete lack of sustenance, Ambaw reportedly has a normal life, she is in good health and has plenty of energy to perform her daily tasks, which include cooking for others and running various errands. The young woman has undergone several medical tests in Ethiopia, but none could really confirm if she spoke the truth, although doctors at a hospital in Addis Ababa did confirm that there was no evidence of any food in her intestines at the time of the examination.

Coin collection sealed for 100 years up for sale

London: A Danish butter magnate's collection of coins could fetch close to £60m on auction, a hundred years after he passed away.

Lars Emil Bruun, who was born in 1852, said in his will that a 20,000-piece collection he built throughout his life must be safeguarded for 100 years before it could be sold.

More than a century on, New York-based coin auctioneer Stack's Bowers will sell off the collection this autumn.

In the 1800s, Mr Bruun's dairy enterprise made him rich and allowed him to hoard coins, medals, tokens and banknotes from Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

Since his death, the collection was held at former Danish royal residence Frederiksborg Castle, before it later made its way to Denmark's National Bank. Some pieces in the collection are valued at 40 pounds, but others could go for more than 800,000 pounds.

VOICE OF THE READER

This Road in Srirampura is crying for attention

Sir,

The stretch of road from Vivekananda Circle alongside Domino's Pizza, Canara Bank, and Medha Medicals in Srirampura is currently facing significant challenges.

The situation is chaotic due to the haphazard traffic, where minors as young as ten years old are seen riding two-wheelers, often while talking on their smartphones. Moreover, instances of triples and even quadruples on a single bike, with occupants not wearing helmets, are rampant. Reckless speeding exacerbates the chaotic conditions.

Furthermore, the area opposite Canara Bank has become a source of foul odour due to its misuse as a public toilet. Also, the unrestricted burning of plastic and waste near the Medical Store, next to auto stand, adds to the unpleasant environment.

I urge the authorities concerned to address these issues promptly and effectively. Immediate action is necessary to mitigate potential hazards to public safety and well-being.

Residents and commuters in the area deserve a safe and clean environment, and these problems must be resolved without further delay.

Book Talk: A peek into US politics and society

Author M.P. Prabhakaran

Surprises, pleasant or unpleasant, never cease to happen in everybody's life. Recently, I had a pleasant surprise when the Blue Dart courier delivered two books from a friend in New York, M.P. Prabhakaran.

Many years ago I had written about this old journalist-friend of mine first acquainted in Mumbai where we were journalists though working for different publications. Later our acquaintance turned to friendship. We remained friends since late 1960s though separated, by continents and oceans thousands of miles away. We had to go our separate ways, for good or bad.

I left Mumbai to anchor myself in Mysuru and he left for the legendary land of opportunities, US, that beckoned the weary and tired looking for an opportunity to make it good in life. Surprisingly, both of us pursued the same profession of a pen-pusher and seem to be happy for it. Prabhakaran also taught for several years.

The books I received, one titled 'How I Spoke My Mind and Created Enemies Around,' the other 'How I Responded to Blunders of Donald Trump via The New York Times,' are as unique as their titles are a tad eponymous. On browsing the books, I discovered, as he himself claimed in the blurb, that it is a collection of the social and political commentaries he wrote over the past two decades and published in The East-West Inquirer, an online monthly of which he is the Editor and Publisher.

It appears his friends told him, even warned that "Your pen is your biggest enemy." And that he pursued his passion despite the warning continuously to this day speaks eloquently about his honesty and courage of conviction.

The book 'How I Spoke My Mind and Created Enemies Around' has 46 articles and should I find among them some interesting ones I might share it with my readers later. The second book is titled after his bête noire Donald Trump. The title 'How I Responded to Blunders of Donald Trump via The New York Times' is a sentence. The contents page of this book of 235 pages with 235 chapters looks like an index of a book.

Donald Trump is my favourite American politician more for other reasons than having been an 'out of the box' President of America from 2017 to 2021. American Presidents normally get elected for the second term too, but unfortunately for Donald Trump it did not happen when a fluke horse, the present President Joe Biden, won by a whisker. However, Donald Trump's friend in India, Prime Minister Narendra Modi made it for a second term triumphantly in 2019 and he is almost at the threshold of entering the Prime Minister's Office for the third time in the present ongoing 2024 Parliamentary election. Good luck to Modi. What Adi Shankaracharya was to Hinduism in the 8th century, Narendra Modi is to Indian politics in the 21st century. Let it be.

As an aside, let me recall the Constitutional road America took to put an end to the insatiable thirst for power by the likes of President Franklin D. Roosevelt who ruled, going around on a wheelchair, for the fourth term continuously in office.

Sensing the danger of such eventuality happening in the future, the American Congress passed Constitutional amendment restricting Presidency to just two terms for an individual on Feb. 27, 1951. Is there a lesson to learn for India?

About this book, author Prabhakaran confesses, that he is addicted to reading The New York Times ever since he landed in America in 1975 and it became a habit for him to comment on various stories and reports he read in the paper.

He admits, apparently with a tinge of disappointment, that most of his comments and letters "did not see the light of day." As an Editor of an English paper and a vernacular newspaper here in Mysuru, I know the difficulty in deciding with these habitual letter writers. I guess my friend Prabhakaran too is a habitual letter writer.

According to reports, it is almost certain that Donald Trump would be the Republican candidate for the Presidency in this year's election. I wonder what would be my friend Prabhakaran's comments and reactions in case Donald Trump wins the election.

This book may be useful to me for reference if and when I write about Donald Trump no matter he falls or rises in the ensuing 2024 Presidential election.

This said, I must confess, for me both the books are interesting for a read and reading is made easy because of the easy flowing style of writing sans rhetoric.

The books are published by The East-West Inquirer (www.eastwestinquirer.com) and powered by Pothi.com (https://pothi.com). The books are priced low and a must read for those who are the denizens of the almighty America.

Sex scandal & kidnap case

Out of jail,

Revanna offers special puja at Chamundi Hill Temple

Mysuru, May 15 (SBD&BS)- Former Minister H.D. Revanna, who was released on bail from Parapanna Agrahara Central Prison in Bengaluru on Tuesday, visited Goddess Chamundeshwari temple at Chamundi Hill here later in the night.

Revanna, accompanied by party leaders like former Ministers C.S. Puttaraju and S.R. Mahesh, MLC C.N. Manjegowda and former Mayor and BJP leader Sandesh Swamy, offered special puja to the presiding deity, at around 8.30 pm.

The priests also performed archane in the name of all the family members of Revanna on the occasion. Revanna, who meditated for about 10 minutes in the temple premises, sought the blessings of the divine to come out unscathed from the difficult situation.

It may be mentioned that Revanna, the sitting JD(S) MLA of Holenarasipura, was arrested on charges of kidnapping one of the victims of sexual abuse allegedly at the hands of his son and Hassan MP Prajwal Revanna, after a case in this connection was registered at KR Nagar Police Station in Mysuru district.

Following his arrest on May 4 by Special Investigation Team (SIT) probing into the case of sex scandal allegedly involving his son Prajwal, Revanna had been remanded to SIT custody till May 8.

He was later sent to judicial custody and had to spend six days behind bars till the court granted him bail on May 13.

Prajwal Revanna to return from abroad tonight?

Prajwal

Bengaluru, May 15 (Agencies)- Following the release of his father H.D. Revanna from jail on a conditional bail, speculations are rife yet again over Hassan JD(S) MP Prajwal Revanna flying back to the country from abroad post midnight today.

After the case of serial sexual abuse allegedly involving Prajwal came to light with the pen drive of voyeuristic acts recorded in the videos were allegedly circulated in Hassan and other districts on the eve of LS elections held on Apr. 26, Prajwal is believed to have flown abroad with the help of his Diplomatic Visa.

The speculations this time on his possible arrival have gained ground, with a copy of return ticket of Lufthansa Airline booked from a travel agency in Haryana emerging on media.

According to the ticket booked in the name of 'Revanna Prajwal', the flight departs Munich in Germany at IST 2 pm and arrives in Bengaluru (at Kempegowda International Airport Limited (KIAL), Devanahalli) at 12.30 post midnight.

Soon after his arrival, SIT personnel who are stationed at KIAL will be taking him into their custody to fulfil the formalities of his arrest.

Since then, there have been several instances hinting at his possible return to the country with SIT personnel keeping an eye on arrivals at KIAL.

It may be mentioned that SIT has already issued a lookout notice for Prajwal, besides a'Blue Corner' notice issued by Interpol.

It is also said that the flight ticket has been cancelled again and he may return to the country only after the results of LS polls are out on June 4.

Meanwhile, the Congress has demanded Prime Minister Modi to make all efforts to bring back Prajwal, who fled the country after sexual abuse allegations surfaced against him.

Among the Chairmen and Secretaries of seven different Turf Authorities, including Bengaluru, Mumbai, Kolkata, Chennai and Hyderabad, a few attended the meeting in person, while a few others attended through Zoom meeting.

Srikanteshwara Temple records Rs.1.72 crore hundi collection

Nanjangud, May 15 - The famed Srikanteshwara Temple at Nanjangud has recorded a hundi collection of Rs.1.72 crore.

The counting of all the 35 hundis of the temple was taken up on Tuesday at the Temple's Dasoha Bhavan, during which Rs.1,72,85,296 cash, 92 grams of gold jewellery, 3.5 kg silver articles and 33 foreign currencies were found.

More than 100 women members of Self-Help Groups took part in the counting process.

60 Trees Fall

K. Surendra, Range Forest Officer (RFO) of Mysuru taluk, told Star of Mysore "The trees belonging to species like Gulmohar, Indian Cork (Akash Mallige), Feltoform account for damages in large numbers, with about 50 to 60 trees uprooted and branches broken due to the wind."

Naturally trees stand as a guard against wind thus reducing their velocity of speed and hence they play a significant role in preventing the possible threat to human lives and damage to properties, he said.

With the soaking of rain water, the underground water table gets recharged leading to rise in water level. But merely one percent of trees uproot, while 99 percent trees stand strong, he noted.

During monsoon, the velocity of wind will be high and blows in a circular manner (Suli Gaali), all encompassing the trees. The severity of the wind decreases by the month of June and the incidents of tree fall also come down. Moreover, the city has Gulmohar, Akash Mallige and Feltoform, only these three species of trees in large numbers, added RFO Surendra.

He also advised against covering the tree trunk with asphalt, along with illuminating the trees with lights, nailing and tying wires. Owing to these acts, the part of the trees goes dry and starts decaying, making them rickety eventually leading to the fall of their branches.

Beginning from February 2023, the Forest Department is creating awareness against hammering nails to trees, tying wires and decorating them with lights for the purpose of illumination, he said.

Stringent action will be taken against violators in the coming days. The general public should understand about the possibilities of ill-effects concerning the trees on their own, the RFO added.

Legislative Council Polls

JD(S)-BJP coalition candidate to file nomination for South Teachers Constituency tomorrow

Vivekananda

Mysuru, May 15 (BLU&VNS)- With Congress candidate and former MLC Marithibbegowda filing his nomination yesterday for the ensuing Legislative Council Polls from the South Teachers Constituency, seeking election for the 5th time, JD(S) leader K. Vivekananda, the BJP-JD(S) coalition candidate is all set to submit his nomination papers to Regional Commissioner Dr. G.C. Prakash, who is also the Returning Officer, at 12 noon tomorrow.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, JD(S) Core Committee Chairman and MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD) said that the coalition party leaders including JD(S) State President and former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy, Leader of the Opposition in Legislative Assembly R. Ashoka, BJP State President B.Y. Vijayendra and others would be present during the filing of the nomination papers.

GTD also mentioned that prior to the filing of the nomination papers, a meeting of BJP and JD(S) leaders would be held at Govind Rao Memorial Hall located on JLB Road to discuss about the upcoming Council Polls.

When asked about BJP candidate E.C. Ningaraju, as announced earlier, was also filing his nomination papers this afternoon, GTD said issuing 'B' form is very important without which the candidature will not be considered. "The arrival of BJP leaders including B.Y. Vijayendra and R. Ashoka will be a proof of alliance. The voters, who are aware of Marithibbegowda's failure, will support our candidate in the ensuing polls," he said.

Coalition candidate K. Vivekananda, who confirmed about filing his nomination tomorrow, added that he had already met the teachers in the Constituency and appraised them about his plans for the teaching community.

'Playing with mud, colours enhances creativity among children'

Senior theatre artiste Indira Nair delivers talk at valedictory of 'ART intro' summer camp

Indira Nair

Mysuru, May 15 (MTY&VNS)- "Children being allowed to play with mud and colours will help in enhancing their creativity," said senior theatre artiste Indira Nair.

Speaking at the valedictory of 'ART intro' summer camp, jointly organised by Indian Institute of Educational Theatre, Varna Collective And Mysore Art Centre, at Hardwicke School premises in city on May 12, Indira, remembering her childhood days, mentioned that the children then had the opportunity to play with mud and colours and added that the children today were being restricted from even touching the mud.

Stating that children should be taught to play with mud and colours, she said that parents should take up the responsibility of increasing the creativity among the children.

Speaking on the occasion, Music Composer Srikanta said that the children would naturally have the ability to grasp different musical notes and it was the responsibility of the parents to identify their talent and encourage them to enhance their skills.

He also said that 'ART intro,' not only restricting itself to summer camps, also has plans to conduct classes to art teachers and students in the coming days as there were many opportunities in the field of arts.

The students were later distributed with certificates following which they presented cultural programmes under the theme 'Raag Saraag.'

Senior Theatre Person and Rangayana former Director Prasanna, 'ART intro' Director Cheluvaraj, writer Keerthi Byndoor and others were present.

Kergalli Lake needs urgent rejuvenation

Algae formed in Kergalli Lake emanating foul smell.

Mysuru, May 15 (RK&DM)- The deteriorating condition of Kergalli Lake, situated near Kergalli's Sri Siddarameshwara Temple, has raised concerns among the residents due to pollution and poor maintenance.

The influx of drain water and pollutants from nearby residential areas has contaminated the Lake, resulting in an overgrowth of algae, weeds and fungus.

Despite repeated complaints from residents to the authorities concerned about the Lake's deplorable state, there has been no improvement. The recent heavy rainfall has further exacerbated the situation, causing the Lake to reach its capacity.

Concerned residents fear that any breach in the Lake, especially during heavy rains in the coming months could lead to contaminated water entering their homes, posing significant health risks.

In response to these concerns, residents have urged the Bogadi Town Panchayat and Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) officials to expedite the process of Lake rejuvenation and cleaning to avert a potential crisis.

They emphasise the urgent need for action to restore the Lake's health and prevent further deterioration of the surrounding environment.

Addressing the issue, Bogadi Town Panchayat officials have stated their intention to introduce mosquito larva-eating fish into the Lake once MUDA undertakes the cleaning process to eliminate dirt and pollution.

This proposed solution aims to address the mosquito infestation issue while the broader restoration efforts are underway.

Efforts to save Kergalli Lake from its current state highlight the importance of community involvement and coordinated action between local authorities and residents to preserve natural water bodies and mitigate environmental hazards.

MUDA Chairman inspects Lake, promises development

Mysuru, May 15 (RK&DM)- MUDA Chairman K. Marigowda, accompanied by MUDA and Bogadi Town Panchayat officials, inspected the overflowing Kergalli Lake (Kurubakatte) yesterday and promised to take measures for its development.

Stating that he visited the Lake following complaints that the overflowing water from the Lake had gushed into houses nearby, Marigowda said Lake development works will be taken up soon.

The accompanying officials told Marigowda that though storm water from SBM Layout to Deepanagar flows through Poornaiah Canal via Ningarajana Katte and Judicial Layout to reach Kergalli Lake, the closure of Raja Kaluve for the construction of a building has resulted in the Lake overflowing whenever it rains heavily.

The MUDA Chairman directed the officials to strengthen the Lake bund and to lay a huge pipe so that storm water flows smoothly through the drain. He also instructed for erecting steel barricades around the Lake as a safety measure.

Marigowda told local residents that MUDA has submitted a Detailed Project Report (DPR) on construction of storm water drain at Kergalli, Rajarajeshwarinagar and Somanathnagar at a cost of Rs. 24 crore. The MUDA will follow up the matter once the Model Code of Conduct for LS polls ends, he added.

Bogadi Town Panchayat CEO Kuriakose, MUDA EE Nagesh, leaders Naganna, Huchappa, Basavegowda, Ravi, Prakash and others were present during the inspection.

WORD OF THE DAY

Instigate

Pronunciation: IN-stuh-gayt (Verb)
Meaning: To instigate something is to cause it to happen or begin.
Origin: It's time to investigate the true meaning of instigate. Instigate is often used as a synonym of incite (as in "siblings instigating a fight"), but the two words differ slightly in their overall usage. Incite usually stresses an act of stirring something up that one did not necessarily initiate ("the court's decision incited riots"), while instigate implies responsibility for initiating or encouraging someone else's action, and usually suggests dubious or underhanded intent ("he was charged with instigating a conspiracy"). Coming from a form of the Latin verb instigare ("to urge on or provoke"), instigate stepped into English in the 1500s, roughly a century after incite.
Example: "The image of John, Paul, George and Ringo waving from the top steps of Pan Am Yankee Clipper flight 101 at 1.20 pm on 7 February 1964 is among the most iconic in rock'n'roll history. ... That aeroplane steps photo was pivotal in instigating a dynamic in rock music whereby boys played guitars to the wild adulation of girls, a misguided social 'norm' that became so deeply embedded in the music industry that we're only now beginning to untangle it." — Mark Beaumont, The Independent (London), 7 Feb. 2024

THE ODD WORD

Theonomous

God rules or governs.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

In a split second

Meaning: The phrase 'In a split second' refers to an instant.
Origin: A second was the smallest measure of time until the 1884 origin of the idiom 'Split second'. It was then that a stopwatch with two independent second hands that could be stopped at different times was invented; and at the same time, the idiom 'Split second' came into use. A related idiom, 'Fraction of a second' was popularised in 1912.
Example: "For a split second, it looked like she would fall."
